

Herts Parent Carer Involvement (HPCI) and campaigning

Parents and carers sometimes ask us why HPCI doesn't actively campaign for such things as better campaigns and for more funding for SEND. HPCI is a parent carer forum funded in part by the Department for Education. As part of our agreement with them we are unable to actively campaign. However, HPCI is free to send out information about SEND related campaigns or campaign groups. As an organisation we will often share the same aims and goals as campaigners and can work alongside them towards achieving improvements in services and lives for our children and young people.
